

Visualizations

For my visuals, I used two different sources for the two different data collection sources. For my api collection, I was able to put the data into excel, and from then simply insert the graphs based on the cell data. For the web scrape, I imported matplotlib.pyplot for both queries, and from then I put the different requirements I wanted for each graph.